

Name: Iyad Hashlamon

Country: Palestine

Institution: Palestine Polytechnic University

Role: Head of the Scientific Committee in the Engineers Association

Email: iyad@ppu.edu

Iyad Hashlamon was born in Hebron, Palestine, in 1981. He received the B.E. degree in Mechatronics engineering from Palestine Polytechnic University (PPU), Hebron, Palestine, in 2004, the M.Sc. and Ph.D. degrees in Mechatronics engineering from Sabanci University, Istanbul, Turkey, in 2010 and 2014, respectively.

In 2004, he joined the Department of Mechanical Engineering, PPU, as a TA. In 2014 he joined PPU as an Assist Prof and in 2016 became the head of the mechanical engineering department. Currently, he is the head of the scientific committee in the Engineers Association/Hebron branch, coordinator of mechatronics engineering master program, member of intelligent systems center and member of intelligent systems master program committee in PPU. His current research interests include Robotics modeling and design, motion control, intelligent systems and intelligent sensors, Humanoid robots and systems identification.

Dr. Hashlamon participated in the international visitor leadership program (IVLP) at the USA in the field of Higher education: Public-Private partnership in 2018, international research development week in Granada University in Spain in 2018 and Entrepreneurial Education in 2015. He conducted a training in the field of machine automation technology in Japan in 2005. He coordinated several workshops and competitions: Hult Prize competition, Empowering open source manufacturing laboratories in Palestine workshop, STEM summer school for school students workshop, FIRST Lego League competition, World Robotic Olympics, and Intelligent Technology to serve the land competition.