

Name: Sulafa Musallam

Institution: Al Quds Open University

Country: Palestine

Role: Director of Adel Z'aiter Translation and Languages Center

Email: smusallam@qou.edu

Enjoys 15 years of experience in the field of translation and editing with a double Master's degree in Translation and Interpreting from al-Quds University/Palestine and HRM in the Hospitality and Tourism Industry/UK. Proficiency in Arabic and English Languages, very good command of French and Italian languages, and a good understanding of Spanish Language. Holds different publications (books, chapters in books, articles, edited works) published in international journals, the Palestinian Ministry of Culture, and universities publishing houses in different areas such as literature, translation, history, humanities, and human rights. Worked in various international and local NGOs and the private sector in the field of HR and proposal writing. Currently working at al-Quds Open University as the Director of Adel Z'aiter for Translation and Languages Center providing translation services for academics and students as well as developing language curricula and engaging in language training activities for students.